THRILLING ADVENTURE WITH THE MORMONS.

C. G. Langdon, formerly connected with the United States Surveyor's office in Utah, was engaged in his official duties at the time of the United States Court was broken up, girl whom he had been paying attention to for and witnessed the stampede of Uncle Sam's a year or more. It is seldom he will attempt officers. Brigham Young having declared that no United States official should again set draws tears from eyes unused to weeping." foot in the Valley, Langdon was prompted to visit Salt Lake City, and see what preparations the Mormons were making. He saw them casting cannon shot, and manufacturing grape and capister in great abundance, and some fifty men making Colt's dragoon-size revolvers. He was detected, however, and "spotted" for destruction. He says:

Accordingly, on the 25th day of July, when erossing the street, I was assailed by a party of ruthans, was knocked down and most shamefully beaten with clubs and stones. I was literally cut and bruised and mangled all over my head, face, breast, hands and arms. was taken home unconscious, and had it not been for some emigrants there who interposed, I should have been brutally murdered in the streets, and without the least possible chance to defend myself.

All was quiet until the night of the 27th of July; I was disturbed by a loud rapping at the back door of the office, (I lived next door,) him with a respectful deference. and also heard voices at the front door. I heard Mr. Wilson raise the window above and ask what was wanted; he was ordered to come down and deliver himself up under arrest, by the authority of Governor Brigham Young. He asked what charge they had against him. "Come down, and we'll d-n soon show you," was the reply.

The next heard was the door being broken open, and the voice of Mr. W. in expostulation with them, the entreaties of his wife, begging for them to spare her husband, minrendered the scene perfectly heart-sickening. I lay almost powerless, with the pain of my wounds and conflicting thoughts and emotions, until suddenly I was thoroughly arous ed by hearing them beneath my window, at the back door. I told my wife not to make a noise, or even cry; she did not cry, but her last words were, "For God's sake, George, fly! Go-go-if you can-I-I-cannot see you murdered! Oh, go! and I will do the best I can to detain them."

I had time to put on a pair of pantaloons and one stocking, when, without any ceremony, the door was burst open, and a posse of midnight assassins entered below. I motioned to my wife to extinguish the light, which They immediately made a rush for the stairs (expecting, no doubt, that I was preparing for fight, but I could not have killed a mouse then.) I stopped and kissed my infant boy-perhaps for the last time on earth -then barely had time to leap from the win dow, and in doing so I cut my foot very bad-It seemed the fates were against me; but suddenly, the thought struck my mind that if ling with the rich tones, his hands I could possibly make my escape, I might folded before him; and as he sung—probably be the means of saving Wilson—"And 'twas there that Annie Laurie thinking they dare not execute their bloody purpose on one alone, as the other would be oo formidable a witness against them; for I thought of my wife and child; yes, I might vet live to rescue him from the blighting influence of their teachings-from a life of tears in more than one eye. poverty, ignorance and wretchedness. Thus, vith renewed energy, I pursued my way through the corn fields and thickets, bare-in rapi at last, I found a friend who relieved me all that lay in his power, by giving me a pair of moccasins and an old hat. Thanks, my friend; may you never want relief.

I was hotly pursued several days. The next morning after I started for California and had the satisfaction of seeing seven of my pursuers, mounted and armed to the teeth, pass me within twenty yards, while I was secreted behind a sage bush; I could not refrain from a smile even then in my critical position, to see their knives and pistols hung

I have not yet heard from Salt Lake, and do not know the fate of Wilson. I entertain but little fears for the safety of my wife and child; the Mormons seldom molest or harm a woman, except to coerce her into measures that are sometimes very disagreeable. I rely on the well-known fortitude and firmness of my wife, and do not think I shall be disap-

SIGNIFICANT MOVEMENTS IN AUSTRALIA .-In Australia, it would appear, by the last advices from there, a national party has been formed, their object being to bring about a union of all the Australian provinces in one great Federal State. Some years since, it will be remembered, certain movements in favor of independence became apparent, but these were promptly hushed up. The immigration of the Irish element to the Australian colonies since that time has been very extensive, and the Irish people being generally inspired with a spirit of hostility against the English government, this fact probably has tended to the "federation" scheme. This question of uniting Australia in one Federal State was brought up in the Legislative Assembly at Victoria last summer, and after an animated debate, was referred to a Committee, which has recently published its report. The committee regards an ultimate union of Australia as a necessity, and proposes a conference of delegates to be held for the purpose of sketching the plan of a constitution, which afterwards shall be submitted to the various legislative bodies of the be composed of three delegates from each legislature of the colonies of New South Wales, South Australia, Tasmania, and Victoria. As to how the report of the committee has been received by the Legislative Assembly of Victoria, nothing is yet known but it is said that the scheme meets the approval of the people, and concurs with the wishes of the colonists generally. So that the prospect is,-that the British Government is likely, sooner or later, to behold the transformation of its Australian colonies into one grand Federal Republic,-whether to be free and independent, like the United States, or not, time and events must determine.

NEW YORK, January 9 .- Governor Wise's letter to the Tammany Society celebration, yesterday, says that Congress ought not to reject the Lecompton Constitution, but subject it to a fair legal vote of the people of Kansas. No honest Democrat should be proscribed for a difference of opinion as to the manner of solving a question.

Sr. Louis, Jan. 11.-Resolutions were inexpressing fear of such a precedent on their domestic institutions.

Both Houses have endorsed Mr. Ferguson against Mr. Chapman for Congress.

There are now over one hundred female practitioners, regularly educated physicians, in the United States.

ANNIE LAURIE.

"If you want to hear Annie Laurie sung, come to my house," said a man to his friend. "We have a love-lorn fellow in the village, who was sadley wreeked by the refusal of a the song, but when he does, I tell you, it

A small selected company had assembled in a small pleasant parlor, and were gaily chatting and laughing when a tall young man entered, whose peculiar face and air instantly arrested the attention. He was very pale, with that clear vivid complexion, which dark haired consumptives so often have. His locks were as black as jet, and hung profusely upon a square white collar. His eyes were very large and spiritual, and his brow such an one as a poet should have. But for a certain wandering look, a casual observer would have pronounced him a man of uncommon intellectual powers. The words "poor fellow" and "how sad he looks," went the round as he came forward, bowed to the company, and took his seat. One or two thoughtless girls laughed as they whispered he was "love cracked,"-but the rest treat d

It was late in the evening when singing was proposed, and to ask him to sing 'Annie Laurie' was a task of uncommon delicacy .-One song after another was sung, and at last same. that one was named. At its mention the young man turned deadly pale, but did not speak; he seemed instantly to be lost in reverie. "The name of the girl who treated him so badly was Annie," said a lady, whispergled with their oaths and obscene expressions, ing to the new guest-but oh! I wish he would sing it; nobody else can do it jus> tice." "No one dare sing Annie Laurie before you Charles," said an elderly lady; 'would it be too much to ask you to favor the company with it?" she added timidly.

He did not reply for a moment-his lips quivered a little, and then looking up as if he saw a spiritual presence, he began. Every sound was hushed-it seemed as if his voice were the voice of an angel. The tones vibrated through nerve, and fulse, and heart, and made one shiver with the pathos of his feelings; never was heard melody in a human voice like that-so plaintive, so soulful-so tender and earnest!

He sat with his head thrown back, his eyes half closed-the locks of hair glistening against his pale temples, his fine throat swelling with the rich tones, his hands lightly it seemed as if he shook from head to foot with emotion. Many a lip trembled-and there was no jesting, no laughing, but instead, in rapt attention, till be came to the last

"Like dew on the gowan lying
Is the fa' of her fairy feet—
And like winds in summer sighing
Her voice is low and sweet,
Her voice is low and sweet,
And she's a' the world to me—" He paused before he added-

"And for bonnie Annie Laurie, I'd lay me down and die." There was a long solemn pause. The lack locks seemed to grow blacker-the: white temples whiter- almost imperceptibly to their belts, while I had not even a pen- the head falling back-the eyes were close shut. One glanced at another-all seemed awe-struck-till the same person who urged him to sing:

> 'Charles, Charles!' Then came a bush-a thrill of horror crept through every frame-the poor tired heart had ceased to beat-Charles, the lovebetraved was dead.

DEATH OF A VETERAN PRINTER .- The Georgia papers record the death of Samuel Wright Miner, the oldest printer of that State. le was the son of Col. Wm Miner, Revolutionary army, and also claimed that, as editor of the Athens, (Ga.) Gazette, he first suggested the name of General Jackson for the

In treating diseases of the mind, music is not sufficiently valued. In raising the heart above despair, an old violin is worth four doctors and two apothecary shops.

An infernal machine has been exhibted at a fair in Montgomery, Ala. It is said that when steam power shall have been applied to it, it will send bullets in such colonies for approval. The conference is to quick succession that they will go on their errand in a stream, not unlike a volume of water from the pipe of a fire-engine.

CHURCH AND STATE .- The good people of Putnam county, are contemplating a practical union of Church and State, as announced in the following item in the Cookville Times:

"We are pleased to learn that an arrangement is made to complete the new Methodist church in this place, so far as to be able to hold the ensuing session of the Circuit Court in it. This is very important for the interests of our county." The Nashville Banner says that a friend who practices somewhere in that region pronounces this a deep laid scheme to get the lawyers of that circuit inside of a church, all other means having failed. He anticipates a very indignant set of gentlemen when the scheme is discovered.

AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC is now ready for delivery at G. W. Rose', who is supplied with it for distribution gratis to all who call for it. It contains about the richest collection of aneedotes we know of-a calendar accurately calculated for this meridean and found reliable, besides an amount of valuable medical information which should be in the troduced in the Nebraska Legislature depre-cating the failure, to submit the Lecompton Constitution to the vote of the People, and lated in almost every civilized country under the sun. It is published in the English, a ne French, Spanish and German languages, with calendars adapted to every meridian of the Northern Hemisphere. "FAIR MAID."

General Duff Green is busily engaged in project of vast national importance. He proposes to capitalize the income received by each rail road in the Union for carrying the mails, and thus give them a sum of money, (for treasury notes) that will place them on a substantial basis. Brownen Aven: I will cheerfully certify your Perforal is cough, croup, and the cheet diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.

HIBAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Eso, MONTRET, La, writes, 3d Jan., 1896:
"I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your Peterval by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the serveness in my throat and lungs;
less than one half the bottle made me complictly well.
Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

West Manchesta, Pa., Feb. 4, 1856.
Sin: Your Cherry Phetaral is performing marvellor cures in this section. It has relieved several from alart ing symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a ms who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years.

HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant. A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., ALRION, MORROR Co., IOWA, Sept. 6, 1855: " During I have found nothing equal to your Cherry Pectoral for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curishis."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the Cherry Peterni affords relief and comfort.

Aeron House, New Yoan Cirr, March 5, 1856.

Docron Ayen, Lowetti: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your Cherry Peterni has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She tax steadily fulling, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill; for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is five from her cough, and calls herself well.

Yours with gratitude and regard.

Consumptiess, do not despair till you have tried Aven's Conner Picronal. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all around as bespeak the high morins of its virtues. — Philadelphia Ledger.

Aver's Cathartic Pills. THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect are shown that these Phas have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win un-precedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their peneand pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their pene-trating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, romove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the fool humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate singgish or disor-dered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they care the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and daugerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being Being augar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not sub-stantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergy men and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men. The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints: certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:—

Costiveness. Billous Complaints, Rheumatiem, Dropsy, Hearthurn, Heudache arising from a kui stomach, Nausen, Indigestion, Murbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain strising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutameous Disasses which require an evacuant modicine, Scrofnia or Kings Evil. They also, by purify ing the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as beatness, Partial Bilindows, Souriagia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kinneys, Gond, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by umprincipled dealers with some other call they make more profit on. Ask for Arga's other pill they make more profit on. Ask for Aran's Phila, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.
